

A Chocolate Haggadah

HABSTY welcomes you to 2021/5781 HBTeen Seder

Readers Welcome

Welcome to our teen seder. HABSTY has worked really hard to bring you games and activities to make this seder experience unlike your usual three hour family affair while munching on parsley.

We want to feel connected as possible during this time where we only see each other through screens. If you would like to take a turn as a reader, please let Sophie know in the chat. We wanted to make this second passover of the pandemic fun and sweet, so why not do that with everyone's favorite food! (Chocolate)

Some Prayers for Important Things

Kadesh

Blessing over the wine (chocolate milk/hot cocoa)

Blessed are you, G-d, creator of cocoa beans. From the creation of the cocoa tree, people were blessed with the knowledge of making chocolate from them. You have chosen us to remember the gift of chocolate, which we once did not have.

Lets drink some chocolate!

Urchatz

Washing of the hands

Of course, we are very used to the importance of hand washing this year, and so we bless the ability to disinfect. Thank you universe for living in times where soap and hand sanitizer are a thing.

Karpas

Something Green

The Green Candy is a symbol of the green of spring. We all need some warmth right now and some green life!

Eat your green candy!

Yachat

Matzah

Now we break the middle matzah symbolically, as we think about breaking out of winter despair and moving forward in this new year.

Everyone can eat some chocolate or plain matzah!

Maggid - The story of passover

Activity

HABSTY will guide you through our own way of sharing and remembering the story of passover. First we will read The Four Questions. As we all answer internally, we reflect on the depth of understanding chocolate can bring us.

1. On this night, we indulge in sweets and chocolate, why is this night different and guilt free?
2. Why is it wise to eat things that make us happy?
3. On all other nights, why do we eat well balanced meals, and tonight we only eat dessert?
4. On all other nights we only eat a little bit of sweets, why tonight do we eat as much as we want?

A list of Plagues

Water turns to blood, frogs, lice, flies, livestock, pestilence, boils, hail, locusts, darkness, killing of the first born, coronavirus, lack of chocolate.

Maror

Lets bless the bitter herbs, or dark bitter chocolate. We recall the bitter lives of the Jews in Egypt, and the salty tears they shed. We remember that hardship, so we don't lose sight of the freedom we have today and the fact that others are still not free in the world.

Everyone eat some dark chocolate!

Speaking of Bitter Herbs, let's talk "Hillel Sandwich"

Korech - (S'mores)

HABSTY will lead us in an activity.

Sulchan Orech - The Meal

Let's eat our egg, a symbol of rebirth, spring and the cyclical nature of a year and history sometimes repeating itself. The egg traditionally also represents the animal sacrifices made at the temple in ancient times. Thank you G-d for letting us eat delicious food!

Tzafun

The Afikomen - Activity!

Hallel

Songs of Praise

No celebration would be complete without a little song session to sing our praises of freedom and chocolate!

(We also should drink some more chocolate milk! Technically we should have consumed four cups by now, but who's counting!)

Nirtzah

The Conclusion

Next year in... person!

HABSTY will conclude our seder.
